Bank Guarantees in International Trade

Bank Guarantees in International Trade

It is an anomaly of international trade that a recognizable law of bank guarantees-in which the bank guarantee is independent from the principal contract-has developed in the absence of generally adopted international conventions.

A significant degree of uniform law across jurisdictional boundaries has spontaneously emerged, and national law in many countries has of its own accord developed along uniform lines.

Bank Guarantees in International Trade is the first book to

Publication no: 661

ICC Model Mergers & Acquisitions Contract 1 - Share Purchase Agreement

Publication no: 656

ICC Commission on Commercial Law & Practice

First in a series of models dealing with the transfer of a company or business

This new model contract is the first in a series of ICC international Merger & Acquisition (M&A) agreements. The notion of M & A agreements, regards, broadly speaking, the transfer of a company or a business and covers a variety of contracts.

This first model is a Share Purchase Agreement (SPA) in its simplest form, i.e. the acquisition of the entire issued share capital of one company. It is intended to assist parties and lawyers who are not specialized in M&A contracts to draft a simple contract covering the most common issues involved. This means that the model may not be appropriate for complex transactions nor for acquisitions of public companies.

The SPA contract takes account of all these specifics and contains enough flexibility for the parties to work out special situations for themselves.

Contents:

This model contract is broken down into several parts including:

- Pre-closing and post-closing undertakings
- Price and closing
- Warranties, breach of warranties
- Indemnification, indemnification procedure and limitation of liability
- Restrictive covenants
- Confidentiality / announcement
- Many issues (e.g. conditions that must be met before closing) are covered in the useful annexes and schedules

ICC Arbitration in Practice

Publication no: 959

ICC Arbitration in Practice

Also available in French.

This eminently practical volume provides an article-by-article commentary of the current version of the ICC Rules of Arbitration. Using clear and concise language, unencumbered by footnotes and illustrated by flow diagrams, the authors guide the reader through the various stages of ICC arbitration proceedings, from initiation to the final award.

The Rules of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce commonly referred to as the ICC Rules are the rules most frequently used in commercial disputes between business partners from different countries. Since they were first launched in 1922, these Rules have been applied in over 13,000 cases.

About the Authors

The authors, all practicing lawyers, have all worked as counsel at the Secretariat of the ICC International Court of Arbitration. They have gone on to represent parties and act as arbitrators in many international proceedings.

Essential Reading for lawyers

Written from a practical perspective, this book is an essential resource for company lawyers who wish to familiarise themselves with ICC arbitration, assess the pros and cons of entering into an arbitration clause referring to the ICC rules, or obtain information and guidance on how to proceed in a given situation.

Contents:

This thorough analysis is enhanced with other invaluable material, including:

- a digest of statistics relating to ICC arbitration for the years 1999 to 2003;
- a comparative table of references to selected national arbitration laws;
- a bibliography, including useful web sites;
- and a chapter on ICC's other dispute resolution services.

Appendices provide the reader with the texts of ICC s various dispute resolution rules and other relevant documents.

Leading Court Cases on Letters of Credit

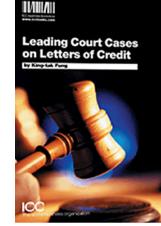

Leading Court Cases on Letters of Credit by King-tak Fung

More than 15 percent of trade (over $1 trillion a year) is financed using letters of credit.

Now universally used, the UCP, as these ICC rules for letter of credit practice are called, are the most successful private rules for commerce ever developed. But rules require interpretation, and courts worldwide have interpreted how the UCP should be applied in daily practice. Here, in a single volume, the most important court cases interpreting the UCP have been collected, analyzed and explained.

For each case, this important book lays out -

• a summary of the facts of each case in easy-to-

Publication no: 658

understand diagrams;

- the key issues presented ; and
- an analysis of what each court decision means for letter of credit practice.

Contents:

Leading Court Cases interprets cases from several jurisdictions concerning a range of issues, including :

- Confirmation: Pasir Gudang Edible Oils Sdn Bhd v The Bank of New York, 1999, (USA)
- Availability of credit: Bank of China v Agricultural Bank of China, 2000 (China)
- Fraud and injunctions: Mees Pierson N.V. v Bay Pacific (S) Pte Ltd, 2000 (Singapore)
- Document examination and rejection: Crédit Industrial et Commercial v China Merchants Bank, 2002 (England)
- Law and jurisdiction: Rabobank v Bank of China, 2004 (Hong Kong)

Other cases analyzed concern credits versus contracts, standby letters of credit and marine bills of lading.
